

ELLLO 1525 - Veronica - Hometown

Hello. My name is Veronica and I'm _____ [by/from/at] the United States. My question today is where did you _____ [grow/grew/grown/] up and what was it like?

Well, I was born and _____ [raised/raise/raises] here in the United States and for most of my life, I have _____ [grew/grow/grown] up in the South of the United States, which _____ [means/meaning/mean/] that it really doesn't snow here. And I think that's probably one of my favorite things of having _____ [grew/grown/grow] up in the southern part of the United States. I do have family that _____ [living/lives/lived/] up north and they've always had to deal with _____ [extreme/extra/extremely] cold temperatures and _____ [shoveling/shovel/shovels/] snow.

So _____ [growing/grows/grown] up down here, we have always had things close _____ [at/over/by/] like the beaches, which we've _____ [going/gone/goes/] to a lot, especially on the weekends and for _____ [vacations/vacationing/vacationers/]. And it's such a nice _____ [places/placed/place] to go because it feels so _____ [relax/relaxes/relaxing]. So I feel like having _____ [grown/growing/grew] up here means that my life has been _____ [many/more/much] relaxed, a lot more _____ [fun/funny/funnier].
