

My country's busiest ____ (but / or) liveliest city?

I first had to think ____ (for / from) a minute about what my country ____ (is / us). I've lived in a dozen ____ (countries / country). I spent half my ____ (lives / life) in England, but I've been ____ (living / live) in America ... The U.S. I shouldn't really ____ (say / says) America. Living in the U.S. for five ____ (year / years), so I'm going to go ____ (what / with) the U.S. Although then it's a ____ (question / quest) of what this country's ____ (liveliest / livelier), busiest city is. I think every corner of the ____ (county / country) has its own big lively city, but I ____ (spent / spell) most of my time ____ (hear / here) in New York. It's ____ (generally / general) considered the place ____ (for / to) go, and it's one of the busiest ____ (place / places) I've ever seen outside a Tokyo train station ____ (at / on) rush hour, specifically ____ (about / around) Times Square, which is a ____ (terrible / terribly) place.

No, I hate it. I try ____ (now / not) to go there. I was a ____ (tour / tourist) guide in New York for a few years and ____ (just / adjust) used to take people there for a few ____ (minutes / minute) and tell them ____ (basically / basic) to avoid it. It's busy. It's ____ (dirty / dirt). It's a place to get your wallet ____ (stolen / stole). There's ____ (more / much) better places to be. I find ____ (that / then) in most big ____ (business / busy) cities. I'm a ____ (small / small)-city guy.